

HAPPY FALL!

Let the merriment begin! One month from today, Katie & Tyler are getting married!!! We are so excited to welcome Tyler and his family into ours and wish them all the blessings, love and good fortune as they begin their journey together!

As progress continues, we look towards the FDA approval of the fourth medication to treat the underlying cause of CF, at which point over 90% of those with CF will have a treatment for their gene mutation!

Be sure to check out in this issue:

VERTEX in partnership with the New York Times launches Cystic Fibrosis Community Video Series

After many interactions that those at Vertex have had with families in the CF community, they wanted to share the courage and determination that those living with CF have to live fully in the face of the uncertainty this disease can bring.

This new video series is intended to spread awareness of the disease through sharing the stories of those individuals so more people can get to know this amazing community. We hope the stories motivate folks to be hopeful and keep working for a better future. We encourage you to visit the New York Times' site to learn more and share these fascinating stories.

THE SCIENCE of POSSIBILITY

To reduce the risk of getting and spreading germs at CF Foundation-sponsored events, we ask that everyone follow basic best practices by regularly cleaning your hands with soap and water or with an alcohol-based hand gel, covering your cough or sneeze with a tissue or your inner elbow and maintaining a safe 6-foot distance from anyone with a cold or infection. Medical evidence shows that germs may spread among people with CF through direct and indirect contact as well as through droplets that travel short distances when a person coughs or sneezes. These germs can lead to worsening symptoms and speed decline in lung function. To further help reduce the risk of cross-infection, the Foundation's attendance policy recommends inviting only one person with CF to attend the indoor portion of a Foundation-sponsored event at a specific time. For the outdoor portion, the Foundation recommends that all people with CF maintain a safe 6-foot distance from each other at all times.
